I have two experiences of interaction with ADB. Once I had asked for a copy of the report which was very efficiently handled and the hard copy of report promptly reached me in my office as I had requested.

In another instance, as a Commercial banker I requested for informal views of ADB on the disbursement practice followed by ADB vis-a-vis the progress of the project in the country. Here I felt that the sharing of views was very limited. I am enclosing the mails exchanged on the subject for your reference. Hope you will find the information useful.

Thanks and regards.
