

International Conference

16–18 October 2007 • Asian Development Bank, Manila, Philippines

Will Glennon
President
Global Classroom Connection (GCC)

Global Classroom Connection

The Global Classroom Connection offers Schools all the tools to simply and easily implement a Global Citizenship curriculum while at the same time providing basic hands-on ICT instruction, motivation and practice for English language skills, exposure to other country's youth and culture and all integrated into existing school curriculum.

The GCC is a unique and innovative program focused on capitalizing on the Internet's ability to penetrate the smallest village. For the first time in history, we are connecting and engaging the world's youth in participating and claiming a stake in their own future. By working directly with schools and educational systems around the world, and by partnering classes from school to school, country-to-country, we are fostering communication and understanding between hundreds, then thousands and ultimately millions of students across national borders worldwide.

Our goal is that within 20 years young people in every country of the world will, as a regular part of their curriculum, participate in active and robust Internet connections with students in other countries, thus growing up with a true appreciation of what it means to be a Global Citizen. By empowering and connecting the youth of the world, we will dramatically alter not only the boundaries of their hopes and dreams but will also lay the groundwork for changes in perception and attitude that will have a potentially world-changing impact.
