

ASIAN DEVELOPMENT BANK & NEW ZEALAND

A F A C T S H E E T

The Asian Development Bank (ADB) is dedicated to reducing poverty in the Asia and Pacific region through pro-poor sustainable economic growth, social development, and good governance. Established in 1966, it is owned by 67 member nations—48 from the region—who have committed $133.30 billion to the vision of a region free of poverty.

Despite many successes, the region is still home to two thirds of the world's poor: nearly 1.9 billion people who live on $2 a day or less, with 620 million struggling on less than $1 a day.

New Zealand is the 16th largest shareholder. It has contributed $857.75 million in capital subscription and $138.12 million to special funds since joining in 1966.

Companies and consultants from New Zealand have been awarded $408.1 million in procurement contracts on ADB-financed projects since 1967.

In 2007, ADB approved $10.11 billion in loans, $672.7 million in grants, and technical assistance of $243.4 million. This also generated $1.11 billion in direct value-added cofinancing from financing partnerships operations.

In addition to project loans, grants, and technical assistance, ADB uses guarantees and equity investments to help its developing member countries.

With headquarters in Manila, it has 26 offices around the world and more than 2,000 staff from over 50 countries.
