a A project loan is provided to finance specific projects. ADB uses development finance institutions in its developing member countries (DMCs) as vehicles to finance small to medium-sized projects in the private sector.

b A program loan is provided to support DMCs' efforts to improve the policy, institutional, and investment environment of sector development. It helps meet short-term costs that policy adjustments entail.

c A sector loan is provided to develop a specific sector or subsector. It finances a large number of subprojects in a single sector or subsector.

d Includes nonsovereign public sector loans and excludes equity investments.
