This involves the relocation of approximately 10,000 squatter families currently living within EPAs and the redevelopment of the vacated areas as riverside parks and promenades. Urban renewal supports the upgrading of approximately 500 hectares of depressed urban residential areas at different locations along the river. This will benefit about 80,000 low-income families. Two high priority, pilot areas of low-income, depressed housing - Sta. Ana, Manila and Barangay Santolan, Pasig - with about 3,400 families, were identified and feasibility studies developed. Upgrading includes the provision of basic infrastructure, community facilities, riverbank improvements, and land titling. The sanitation component includes the procurement of 36 vacuum trucks for septic tank maintenance and the construction of a septage treatment plant. The sanitation service provides coverage for about 185,000 households that are targeted to have zero sanitation coverage under the MWSS concession agreement. For project implementation, consulting	Pasig River Rehabilitation Commission 2/F Engineering Bldg.
