Description	The proposed program will be financed under the RBL modality which supports Government-owned sector programs, and links disbursements directly to the achievement of program results. The TRTA is required to conduct due diligence as required for the RBL modality, prepare the preliminary design of the program and assess the scope and scale for cofinancing and partnerships. The design and implementation of programs supported by the RBL include ex ante assessments of the program and its systems, ex post results verification, and systematic institutional development. The TRTA will assess the soundness of the government's social comprehensive protection and poverty alleviation program, Ehsaas, and its suitability as the basis for the proposed RBL program.
Project Rationale and Linkage to Country/Regional Strategy	ADB will maintain support for social protection and poverty alleviation to build the resilience of vulnerable families and individuals in Pakistan. ADB is assessing the viability of a $300 million Results-Based Lending (RBL) program to provide further women-focused support to Ehsaas for system strengthening and improved governance, and human capital development. The indicative program scope will include: (i) institutional and organizational capacity for social protection under UCT and CCT strengthened, (ii) CCT for primary education expanded; and (iii) the design and implementation of pilot CCT for nutrition evaluated.
