

ADBI-PPS-OECD Joint Workshop: Public Procurement for Innovation

Jointly organized by:

Asian Development Bank Institute (ADBI)
Public Procurement Service, Republic of Korea (PPS)
Organization of Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD)

17 February 2022

Virtual Workshop

	Program
16:00 - 16:05 (JP/KR) 08:00 - 08:05 (PA)	Welcoming Remarks Tetsushi Sonobe, Dean, ADBI
16:05 - 16:15 08:05 - 08:15	Opening Speech Kim Chungwoo, Administrator, PPS (pre-recorded) Edwin Lau, Head of the Infrastructure and Public Procurement Division, Public Governance Directorate, OECD
16:15 – 16:20 08:15 - 08:20	Group Photo (online)
16:20 – 17:20 08:20 - 09:20	Session 1: Public Procurement and Innovation (Moderator: Paulo Magina, OECD) Public procurement can play a prominent role in driving innovation. It accounts for a big part of public expenditure and gross domestic product, and offers enormous market potential for innovative products and services, in particular, start-ups. This session will discuss the relationship between public procurement and innovation, and how to use public procurement to drive innovation and innovation-led growth. It will also introduce more strategic use of public procurement as a public policy instrument. Presentations (10min. each) How to Use Public Procurement for Innovation (Paulo Magina, Deputy Head of the infrastructure and Public Procurement Division, OECD) Korea's Experience in Innovation Procurement (Byounggun Kim, Head of Innovation Research Center, Korea Institute of Procurement)

	Environmental Standards for New Government Buildings (Karen English, Director International Procurement and Trade, Ministry of Business, Innovation & Employment, New Zealand) Public Policy Instruments for Procurement: An Empirical Analysis (Dina Azhgaliyeva, Research Fellow, ADBI; Yelena Kalyuzhnova, Vice Dean, Henley Business School, University of Reading) Open Discussion (Q&A) (10min)
17:20 – 18:20 09:20 - 10:20	Session 2: Effective Public Procurement System (Moderator: Jung Mookyung, Former Administrator of PPS) To shift the focus of public procurement from cost compliance to innovation or value creation requires a strong enabling environment. This session will share best practices to reform public procurement system for innovation, and to overcome challenges in implementing innovative public procurement goals and action plans. Moreover, it will also introduce efficient public procurement information system in the digital age, which has been rapidly growing since COVID-19. Presentations (10min. each) Reform of Public Procurement System for Innovation in Korea (Eungkeul Kim, Director General for Innovation Procurement, Public Procurement Service) Innovation Public Procurement: The Role of a Competence Centre (Luís Ferreira, Head of Unit - Promotion and Monitoring of Innovation Policies, Portuguese National Innovation Agency) Korea's Innovation in E-Procurement (Minsoo Choi, Deputy Director of E-Procurement Management Division, Public Procurement Service) E-GP Trends and Innovations in Asia and Pacific (Galiya Ismakova, Principal Procurement Specialist, ADB) Open Discussion (Q&A) (20min)
18:20 – 18:30 10:20 - 10:30	Closing Remarks Seungju Baek, Deputy Dean, ADBI