ABOUT ADB

ADB is committed to achieving a prosperous, inclusive, resilient, and sustainable Asia and the Pacific, while sustaining its efforts to eradicate extreme poverty. Established in 1966, it is owned by 68 members—49 from the region. Its main instruments for helping its developing member countries are policy dialogue, loans, equity investments, guarantees, grants, and technical assistance.

ASIA’S POVERTY CHALLENGE

• 326 million people are still living on less than $1.90 a day
• $1.7 trillion per year is needed between 2016 and 2030 to fill infrastructure gaps
• 7 of 10 countries in the world with the highest estimated climate change, environmental stress, and natural disaster risks are ADB developing member countries

ADB AS A BORROWER

- ADB is a leading AAA borrower in international and domestic capital markets having issued bonds across various markets in 37 currencies.
- ADB is AAA-rated by Standard & Poor’s, Moody’s, and Fitch based on strong fundamentals: strong shareholder support, solid financial profile, and conservative financial policies.
- Callable capital ($140.5 billion as of 30 June 2019) is available for debt service payments and provides the ultimate backing for ADB’s borrowings and guarantees. ADB has never made a call on its callable capital.
- Around 92% of ADB’s loans are to the sovereign portfolio. ADB has never suffered any losses of principal on sovereign loans and does not take part in debt rescheduling.
- The total amount of disbursed loans, disbursed equity investments, and the related prudential buffer, and the maximum amount that could be demanded from ADB under its guarantee portfolio may not exceed the total amount of ADB’s unimpaired subscribed capital, reserves and surplus, exclusive of the special reserve.
- ADB’s borrowing policy limits ADB’s gross outstanding borrowings to no more than the sum of callable capital of non-borrowing members, paid-in capital, and reserves (including surplus).
