I. INTRODUCTION/BACKGROUNDA. Brief Project Description

KEPCO SPC Power Corporation (KSPC) undertook the construction of a 2 x 100 megawatts (MW) CFBC power plant project in Barangay Colon, City of Naga, Cebu. The project is standing in a 10-hectare land leased for 25 years from National Power Corporation (NPC). The project involves 2 resettlement issues: a) in the leased property called Naga Land; and b) along the Transmission Line (T/L) Project.

Prior to construction period, resettlement of some informal settlers families just outside the lease land have been carried out as a joint effort by Barangay Colon, the then Municipal Government of Naga, NPC and KSPC. Out of 22 families, 17 families have accepted financial assistance provided and voluntarily moved their houses in the same vicinity outside the plant's perimeter fence. Five families claim to have legal titles and remain to be partially encroaching in the leased land. NPC filed a civil case for recovery of possession of the areas occupied by these 5 families.

Meanwhile, a social analysis conducted by Transco, now National Grid Corporation of the Philippines (NGCP), concluded that the proposed 138 KV T/L Project require land acquisition and resettlement. The 0.90 – kilometer transmission line from KSPC's Cebu Power Plant Project to the New Naga Substation will affect 11 landowners, 1 tenant, 13 structures owners and 10 relocatee-households.

II. LAND ACQUISITION AND INVOLUNTARY RESETTLEMENT – NAGA LANDA. Progress on Case Filed in Court vs. 5 Illegal Dwellers within Naga Land

The Court has approved the Compromised Agreement with 3 defendants and has also already resolved the issue on the 2 other defendants, who were earlier declared in default for not filing an answer to the complaint.

B. Progress on living condition of 17 Resettlement Families

The families living in the Resettlement Area has already been insulated from direct contact with the land reclaimed using coal ash with the completion of the concreting project.

Last March 2012, 18 unemployed women from Barangay Colon completed and graduated from the three-month food processing and preservation training program conducted by KSPC in coordination with the Department of Education (DepEd) and Technical Education and Skills Development Authority (TESDA).

KSPC is continuously monitoring the resettlement area to see where it can come in to further improve the living condition of the residents.

III. LAND ACQUISITION AND INVOLUNTARY RESETTLEMENT – 138 kV T/L PROJECTA. Progress on the remaining ROW Issues

Out of the 4 expropriation cases, the National Grid Corporation of the Philippines (NGCP) has already settled with one family and secured Writ of Possessions (WOP) for 3 lots.
