Established in 1966, ADB has committed $323.17 billion in loans toward the vision of an Asia and Pacific region free of poverty. Canada is a founding member of ADB.

The Asian Development Bank (ADB) is dedicated to achieving a prosperous, inclusive, resilient, and sustainable Asia and the Pacific, while sustaining its efforts to eradicate extreme poverty.

Established in 1966, it is owned by 68 members—49 from the region—who have committed $323.17 billion in loans toward the vision of a region free of poverty.

Despite the region’s successes, issues still to be fully addressed include poverty and inequality, climate change, growing environmental pressures, and large infrastructure deficits.

Canada has provided $8 billion in capital subscription to ADB as of 31 December 2020. It has also contributed and committed $2.11 billion to Special Funds since joining the bank in 1966. Companies and consultants from Canada have since been awarded $738.66 million in procurement contracts on ADB-financed projects.

In 2020, ADB’s lending volume was $26.9 billion (149 projects), with technical assistance at $293.56 million (275 projects) and grant-financed projects at $1.08 billion (62 projects). In addition, $16.41 billion in commitments from sovereign and nonsovereign cofinancing was generated.

From 1 January 2016 to 31 December 2020, ADB’s annual lending volume averaged $19.69 billion. Investment grants and technical assistance funded by ADB and Special Funds resources averaged $805.5 million and $230.81 million, respectively, over the same period.

As of 31 December 2020, cumulative commitments (excluding cofinancing) were $323.17 billion in loans for 3,369 investment projects in 44 countries, $11.3 billion in 495 grants, and $5.01 billion in technical assistance grants, including regional technical assistance grants.

In addition to loans, grants, and technical assistance, ADB uses guarantees and equity investments to help its developing member countries (DMCs).

With its headquarters in Manila, ADB has 44 offices around the world, with 3,653 staff from 64 of its 68 members as of 31 December 2020.
FINANCING PARTNERSHIPS

ADB arranges cofinancing from bilateral and multilateral sources, export credit agencies, and commercial sources in the form of loans and grants, B loans, risk transfer arrangements, parallel loans and equity, guarantees, and cofinancing for transactions under ADB’s Trade and Supply Chain Finance Program and Microfinance Program. Cofinancing brings additional resources to ADB’s project financing. In 2020, total sovereign and nonsovereign cofinancing commitments amounted to $16.41 billion for 236 projects, of which $16.15 billion was mobilized through transaction advisory services. Cumulative sovereign and nonsovereign cofinancing commitments for the period 1970–2020 amounted to $16.41 billion for 3,051 projects, of which $123.92 billion was for 1,082 investment projects, $2.65 billion was for 125 technical assistance projects, and $76 million was mobilized through transaction advisory services. Cofinancing commitments with Canada from 1 January 2016 to 31 December 2020 comprised the following:

Projects

• Sovereign: 9 projects, cofinancing of $20.99 million
  o Grants: 1 project, cofinancing of $1.8 million
  o Technical Assistance: 8 projects, cofinancing of $19.19 million
• Nonsovereign: 10 projects, cofinancing of $262.85 million

A list of projects cofinanced by Canada is available at www.adb.org/what-we-do/financing-partnerships/sovereign-financing#donor-countries.

Trust Funds

Trust funds are key instruments to mobilize and channel external sources to finance technical assistance and components of investment projects. They play an important role in complementing ADB’s own funding resources. Initially, trust funds were established through single-donor channel funding agreements targeting a number of specific sectors. ADB has been increasingly switching to multi-donor trust funds covering thematic issues and theme-focused umbrella initiatives, called financing partnership facilities, which support priority areas such as water, clean energy, regional cooperation and integration, urban sector financing, and health. In close interaction with the fund contributors, ADB will use these resources strategically to promote innovation, enhance project quality, and provide critical support for project implementation.

Canada has contributed to the following trust funds:

Single-Donor Trust Funds

• Canadian Cooperation Fund on Energy Efficiency and Climate Change—established in 2001 under the Renewable Energy, and Lower Income Countries
  • Can$81.8 million

• Canadian Climate Fund for the Private Sector in Asia II—established in 2017 to support greater private sector operations to combat the adverse effects of climate change
  • Cumulative commitment: Can$81.8 million

• Canadian Climate Fund for the Private Sector in Asia—established in 2013 under the Expanded Clean Energy Financing Partnership Program. It aims to assist and engage DMCs, at the programming and policy levels, in managing climate change by reducing greenhouse gas emissions
  • Cumulative commitment: Can$5.2 million

* The program limit for ADB’s regional Trade Finance Program (TFP) ($1 billion since 2009, and increased to $1.35 billion in 2018 and $2.15 billion in 2020) is the maximum exposure the TFP can assume at any one point in time. This limit has never been breached. Although the TFP exposure exceeds the program limit annually, this limit was not breached at any one point in time because TFP transactions tend to be short—on average less than 180 days—and the program limit can revolve (be reused) within a year. In addition, the TFP distributes risk exposures to various partners that leverage its capital resources.

NONSOVEREIGN OPERATIONS

As a catalyst for private investments, ADB provides financial assistance to nonsovereign projects and financial intermediaries. Total commitments in loans and equity investments from ADB’s own funds in 2020 amounted to $1.4 billion for 38 transactions in economic and social infrastructure, finance sector, and agribusiness. ADB also actively mobilizes cofinancing from commercial and concessional sources. In 2020, ADB mobilized $1.9 billion of long-term project cofinancing and $3.3 billion of cofinancing through its Trade and Supply Chain Finance Program and Microfinance Program. Total outstanding balances and commitments of nonsovereign transactions funded by ADB’s own resources stood at $14.3 billion as of 31 December 2020.

The Canadian Climate Fund for Private Sector in Asia—supported by the Government of Canada to catalyze private financing of climate change mitigation and adaptation—has provided loans to various energy projects in Afghanistan, Georgia, Samoa, and select members of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations, including Cambodia, Indonesia, Myanmar and Viet Nam. The National Bank of Canada and ADB supported a financial institution in Mongolia. The Export Development Canada and ADB provided financing to a regional private equity fund and another private equity fund in the People’s Republic of China. ADB and Canada Pension Plan Investment Board are co-investors in two private equity funds and two clean energy projects in India.
